FIRST-GENERATION STUDENTS

We are educating increasing numbers of first-generation college students – which research shows is a pathway for working class families into the middle class, contributing to growth of our area.

HISPANIC STUDENTS

67%

of our first-generation students identify as Hispanic/Latine

39%

of our full-time undergraduates identify as Hispanic/Latine

HISPANIC SERVING INSTITUTE

1 of 2 Jesuit universities that are federally designated Hispanic Serving Institutions. Regis is moving toward becoming a bilingual campus, engaging families, offering additional supports to our growing Hispanic student population, focusing on inclusive hiring and culturally-relevant curricular and co-curricular programming.

This year's highlights:

- ▮ Collaborative HSI Week programming with Iberoamericana Leon University in Guanajuato, Mexico featuring the Memory Recipe Book project of the disappeared in Mexico.
- ▮ Keynote and ongoing professional development with leading HSI expert, Gina Garcia, Ph.D. for all faculty, staff, and Board of Trustees.
- ▮ Annual Dia de Los Muertos community event - hosted Spanish programs from Denver Public Schools, ending the day with a Regis community celebration with culturally significant food and activities.
